

BRYAN JENSEN

Vice President

St. Onge Company

Bryan Jensen is a Principal and Vice President of Business Development with the St. Onge Company located in York, PA. He has over 33 years of logistics and material handling distribution experience across several areas in physical distribution in the retail, wholesale and manufacturing sectors. These areas include distribution center ground up design, procurement and implementation, including all MHE, WMS and operational systems and methods, network logistics, distribution center sizing and capital investment and operational budget planning.

Mr. Jensen also has eight years of instructional experience at the collegiate and post-graduate level, including teaching seminars on design and utilization of high volume automated distribution centers.

Mr. Jensen also leads St. Onge Company's practice in retail and complex distribution design, 3PL evaluation and selection and detailed training efforts within those areas of expertise. He has developed distribution, fulfillment and multi-channel distribution center designs for Home Depot, Staples, Dell, Target, David's Bridal, Zale Corp, Urban Outfitters, Shopko, Circuit City, Gap Direct, L.L. Bean, Hudson Bay Company, Nordstrom, WalMart, TJX, Johnson & Johnson, Toys "R" Us and Sears among others.

He holds an M.A. in English and has published dozens of articles and presentations on distribution center design and operations, supply chain logistics and third party logistics procurement.

